

Event Outline

In the European economy, the ICT sector generates 25% of total business expenditure in Research and Development (R&D), and investments in ICT account for 50% of all European productivity growth. However, the ICT sector also plays an important role in Japanese economic development, and technological developments have been widely embraced in areas such as mobile communications. This provides many exciting opportunities for collaborative projects between European countries and Japan.

Furthermore, in Europe, Luxembourg is a world-renowned international business location and a reliable hub for cross-border activities in a number of fields, including ICT. Global players of all sizes use Luxembourg as a gateway to Europe and beyond, benefiting from its closeness to decision-making centers and its excellent access to worldwide markets.

This why we are pleased to announce an ICT Business Matching Event on Nov. 30th for Japanese companies with an interest in the European ICT market. 5-6 ICT-related companies from Luxembourg, which visit Japan in the framework of the “Official Mission to Japan” business delegation (organized by The Luxembourg Chamber of Commerce), will introduce their companies and present interesting business opportunities in Europe for Japanese companies active in the ICT sector. There will be plenty of time for networking and business talks while light refreshments are being served.
